SAD STORY OF OF FAYETTE CITY GIRL

A sordid and touching story is told in last night's city press of Elizabeth Rutter, age 17, arrested at midnight sitting on a door step in a dark alley on North Side, Pittsburgh, in an intoxicated condition, and sobbing pitifully. When approached by an officer the girl said she had no home, and in her tears would exclaim, "I am bad, oh, I'm so bad! I'm not to blame, will anybody forgive me? I'm not to blame for it all."

The girl was taken to the Allegheny police station and after becoming somewhat calmed she said she had been born and raised at Fayette City, the daughter of Martin Rutter, a miner. Her mother had died when she was two years old and soon she had a step mother who, along with her father made life so miserable that she a the age of 13 drifted into the city and soon procured work in a good home in McKees Rocks. Got along nicely for a time but soon became restless from frequent visits to picture shows and the like and she began to pick up associates usually found in such places.

"Oh, I've been bad!" she would repeat to the matron. Finally she was sent to the Home of the Good Shepherd. There she tried to be good, joined church and was happy.

Last August she said she went back to her Fayette City home, expecting a warm welcome, at least by her father, for being a christian, but he cursed her instead, and tried to take away her belief. Unable to longer bear her persecution she last Christmas returned to the "Home" and for a time was happy and loved the Sistters.

Becoming homesick the girl says that last Saturday she decided to again go home to see her father, but on the way to the station dropped into a nickelodion, and from one to another she went until her "home going" money was spent and she was ashamed to go back and tell the Sisters how she had spent it. Sunday evening she said she was met while walking the street by a man who treated her kindly and persuaded her to go to what appeared to be his home—a very fine house—he gave her drink; the first taste of liquor she ever had, she said, and she was soon intoxicated. Soon the man tired of her and called in a friend, and eventually they threw her out into the street, where she was picked up by the officer. The girl seemed heart broken and remorseful, repented of her wrong and went back yesterday to the Home of the Good Shepherd on Troy Hill.

SHIELDS APPEALS TO TO SUPREME COURT

Philadelphia, March 12.—A petition asking that an appeal be allowed from the decision of the Superior Court was filed in the State Supreme Court here yesterday by John E. Shields, former sheriff of Westmoreland county, who was convicted of the charge of permitting prisoners to escape. The Superior Court held that Shields must be resentenced. Shields bases his appeal to the Supreme Court on the minority opinion of the Superior Court, which held that he had not been guilty of the crime charged.

Presbyterian "Fans" Getting Busy

The Presbyterian ball team met last evening and elected their representative to the meeting of the league on Thursday evening of this week. A manager will be selected at an early date and plans for the team this season will be gone over at the next meeting which will be held shortly. The outlook for this year "Presbys" is very bright and a strong team will be placed in the field and last year's enviable record will be surpassed if possible.

GROUND BROKEN FOR NEW MILLS OF PITTSBURGH STEEL COMPANY AT MONESSEN

Promptly at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the presence of invited guests, foremen and officials of the company and several newspaper men, the first shovelful of earth, marking the beginning of the new blast furnaces and the addition of four more open hearth furnaces to the local plant of the Pittsburgh Steel Co., was turned by General Superintendent, George Nash.

W. C. Reitz, treasurer and J. C. Kohne, real estate agent were present from the city office. Special shovels had been designed for the occasion and Superintendent Nash, with a mighty lunge and heaving a great sigh, drove his shovel far into the bowels of Mother Earth at a point designated by the engineer's stakes as the center of No. 1 furnace and then threw the shovelful of dirt over onto the other side of a nearby railroad siding.

It was here announced that W. C. Reitz would dig the first shovelful of dirt for No. 2 furnace and the gentleman in question then stepped forward to perform his end of the ceremony. A special shovel had been prepared for him and grasping the shovel in a business like manner he said, "Here's to success and prosperity," and endeavored to emulate his predecessor's example, but the handle of the "specially prepared" shovel snapped off as if glass. Mr. Reitz was at one time connected with the Bindley Hardware Co., of Pitsburgh, and a shovel was named the "C. Reitz," after him. This particular make had been selected and carefully sawed in two for the occasion, and when the shovel broke Mr. Reitz's face showed a look of blank wonderment and surprise to think that they were putting that kind of stuff in their handles nowadays.

Work will begin in earnest now and the construction will be pushed to a rapid completion. Men are arriving on the ground daily and are being quartered and housed in a comfortable manner at the company houses. It is expected that this work will give additional employment to almost 500 men.

Remember That Oyster Supper

An oyster supper will be given by the members of the United Brethren church, Saturday evening, March 16, from 4:30 until 10 o'clock, in the Speigelberg building, corner of Fourth and Schoonmaker (the room formerly occupied by Warpola and Pasoja's grocery). The expense of the supper will be only 25 cents and a most cordial invitation is extended to every person. 36-6t

BOARD OF TRADE TO MEET FRIDAY NIGHT

Much interest centers in the coming Board of Trade meeting scheduled for the council chamber Friday evening, as a number of very important topics will be touched upon, and reports heard from various committees.

A pre-arranged program will be followed out, aside from the regular routine of business, and a most interesting meeting is anticipated. For a speaker, F. J. McAllister of New Ktensington has been prevailed upon to come, and as he is reputed to be a fine public speaker and well up on Civic work, his talk will no doubt, be of value to us all. Mr. McAllister is active in Board of Trade work in New Kensington and is a thoroughly practical man.

There will be other talks by local men on subjects of most vital interest at this particular time to our town, and some reference and comparison may be made in reference to the recent Civic League Banquet at Belle Vernon.

Reports are expected from committees on "City Hitching Posts," "Undamed Alleways," "Sign Posts or Finger Boards," "Shade Trees," etc. So it can be readily seen that there is ample material mapped out and provided to insure a rousing good and profitable meeting and we do hope everybody will take a deep interest and help make it the best session yet held.

A New Wrinkle at the Luna

An entirely new innovation in moving pictures has been secured by Manager Charles Freeman for the Luna theatre. The new wrinkle is what is called a "Mirroroid" screen and shows the pictures so plain that even though a person stands several hundred yards away the object can be distinguished very easily. The Mirroroid people have just recently placed their product on the market and the Luna was one of the first theatres in the country to order one installed. This move shows progressiveness on the part of the management and is in conjunction with their policy to have only the best and not spare expense in the efforts to secure it.

SEARCH FOR A MONESSEN HEIRESS

A search that has all the earmarks of that well known play, "Heir to A Million," but which is a reality instead of make believe, came to light yesterday afternoon when W. F. Mack representing the executors of the estate of the late George Kefier of El Paso, Texas, made inquiries at this office concerning Mrs. Minnie King, a milliner, said at one time to have resided at 554 Donner avenue.

According to the statements made by Mr. Mack, Mrs. King is heir to a fortune of approximately $100,000. left her by her uncle, the late Mr. Kefier, who until his death was one of the best known ranchmen in the southern part of Texas. Little is known as to the present whereabouts of Mrs. King, although the country has been searched far and wide in efforts to find some trace of her. Another sister is known to be living but since her marriage, she has been lost trace of entirely.

Mr. Kefier died on his ranch near El Paso on January 14 last, after ailing for some time and he is said to have left a fortune of nearly a quarter of a million dollars to his nieces and other relatives. A great deal of money has been spent in advertising and in a search for the nieces, who are the nearest relatives, but as yet no word as to their present whereabouts has been received. Mr. Kefier who was almost 83 years of age, had been a ranchman since his early boyhood days, he having gone west about the time of the famous "Gold Strike" in '49 and dropped off in Texas and entered the cattle business.

Mr. Mack can be reached at 219 Main street, Monongahela and any information as to the whereabouts of Mrs. King or any information concerning her, will be greatly appreciaed.

Passing of the Undesirable

A boastful, blood thirsty, dangerous man is dead at Braddock, having received just what he had repeatedly and boastfully threatened to mete out to others, and while the christian spirit of the world is ever to lift up and help, it is a blessing sometimes in disguise, that such characters are removed from among us. This man had, for quite a time, threatened the mill officials and others of Duquesne with death if they did not give him employment; his was such a treacherous nature that eventually he was forced to leave and he went to Braddock to get work. A few nights ago this man, Tony Sallantine was found, toward morning, crawling on hands and knees in a dark alleyway in Braddock—one bullet wound in the back of the neck and two wounds in the back—hence it is evident some enemy had slipped up and attacked the man from behind. He lived twenty minutes, conscious until death, but could not speak a word. This is the end of another bad character of which there are many about the big mills of our valley. It is said that this man was known and had worked about the mills of Monessen, but on account of his ugly disposition and overbearing actions was dismissed. The supposition is that death came to this desperate character at the instigation of the Black Hand Society. He, reputed to be a member thereof, it is said, the previous night, in a saloon had boasted of his membership and had divulged a number of its secrets. A few years ago the man committed murder and served time therefor. Thus has a dangerous and unsafe character, in a measure, come to the crossing of the ways for the taking of the life of another; a menace and a dread to mankind has been removed from the pathway and a feeling of ease brought to the employer and co-laborer who had been threatened by him. A traitor to and victim of a lawless, bloodthirsty band or so-called Order of his own countrymen who could not trust him. Is it wrong then, is it unlawful, is it inhuman, is it unchristian for us to assert that it is best that this man has been called to his accounting for the deeds done in the body? To meet his Maker, and stand before the judgement bar of his God?

The Good of the Winter

Is everybody happy? Is everyone satisfied? Did we all get all we wanted when we wished for and hoped for one more good, old fashioned winter like we used to have when we were children? Well, we hope so, at least. The series of "high pressures" from the north which swept this part of the country for about four months past has surely been typical and abundantly satisfying, and the end is not yet, as winter has a few more days, according to the rules laid down by our good, old reliable almanac, which says the seasons will actually close Friday, March 22d, A. D., 1912.

In some respects the winter has been enjoyed by many, although in the main much personal discomfort has been caused and an appreciable increase incurred upon the heads of households for fuel, repairs to bursted water pipes, the inconvenience of being without water, etc. On the other hand the natural result and the one to be hailed with most gladness is that the blankets of the beautiful snow which overspread the land began and perpetuated what is already predicted as the best and most productive crop year we have had in a half century. True, the frosts of late spring and the drenching rains of summer may come and do injury to early fruits and growing crops, but like the human body, the young fruits of the soil must run the gauntlet, and the harder the trials of the race, the purer and better are the matured products. It is months yet before the harvest time and like many years in the past the crops may be damaged while still in blossom or bud, but we are to look on the bright side. We had at the hand of an all wise and far seeing Father, a good, healthy, old-time winter, one to destroy disease germs and produce a pure, healthy atmosphere, and it is not ours to, in a pessimistic way, draw a dark cloud over what is to day a most promising prospect for a good, healthy and productive year.

YOUNG UNTIL THIRTY-FIVE

From That Time On Unmarried Women Are "Old Maids," Says Boston Y. W. C. A.

When does a woman cease to be young? Woman herself, for reasons that require no elaboration here, declines, as a rule, to fix the period. Masculine authorities, for the most part, are chary of venturing upon such dangerous ground. Hence the question has ever been involved in uncertainty and it would perhaps remain so were it not that a responsible authority—none other than the Young Woman's Christian association, the title of which indicates its competency—comes to the front with a decision which may fairly be accepted as conclusive. It is to the Boston branch of the association that the world is indebted for the solution of the problem. The occasion for solving it arose from the completion of a new home for the young women of the association in the Massachusetts city. In framing rules for this establishment, it was found necessary to specify precisely the limit of young womanhood, beyond which the benefits of the home could not be enjoyed. This has been fixed at 35 years. Up to that age a young woman comes within the meaning of the title as understood by the association and may enjoy the advantages of membership and residence in the home. On reaching her thirty-fifth birthday she must resign her quarters. On that fatal day her young womanhood ceases and the "old maid" label is placed upon her indelibly and irrevocably. Thus the matter is settled beyond further cavil or dispute.—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

TO RELIEVE THE HICCOUGHS

Sucking Ice or Taking Salt and Vinegar Often Will Cure Simple Cases.

Simple cases of hiccough are often relieved by such measures as sucking ice or taking salt and vinegar. Pulling the tongue forward and holding it for some time is an effective procedure.

Sometimes obstinate hiccough is relieved when the patient is strong by having him hang with the arms extended and grasping some beam or pole, so that his feet do not touch the floor. With all the abdominal muscles tense, have him hold his breath as long as possible.

The spelling "hiccough" is recent, being a combination of the syllables "hic" and the latter term of "cough," which is without either physiological or etymological basis; the pronunciation, with perhaps the rarest exception, is still that of the older form "hiccup," earlier given variously—as "hickup," "hickups ickup," "hickop," "hickcock," "hichcock" and "hickett," with quasi diminishing suffixes ack, etc.; but the "hick," a syllable aptly expressive of the spasmodic sound produced by the conditions giving rise to the particular disturbance, is found in all references to the origin of the term which the writer has been able to obtain. The term singultus is rarely used.—New York Medical Journal.

Curing Forgetfulness.

I used to be very forgetful, and could not remember half the time where I had put things around the house, says a writer in Harper's Bazar. Finally I hit on this scheme.

I live in the upper flat of a two-family house, and there are just eight rooms in our flat. I got a big white sheet of paper, and wrote on it the names of the eight rooms, and beside the name of each room I wrote the name of a certain place in that room. I decided that every time I put anything out of my hands for a minute I would put it in the place beside the name of that room on the paper.

The paper I tacked up in a conspicuous place in my own room. By using this system I always knew just where to look for things, and after a little while I got so in the habit of putting things in certain places and of remembering where I put them that I no longer needed the paper.

Lifting Fire Hose by Elevators.

The latest idea for raising water for fire-extinguishing purposes to the uppermost floors of tall buildings is to lift the hose by means of the passenger or freight elevators. A simple attachment is provided for affixing the hose to the floor of the elevator, the pipe being coiled up in the bottom of the shaft so as to be easily raised.

In a recent demonstration at Memphis, Tenn., says Popular Mechanics it was said that the water arrived at the sixth floor of a building practically as soon as the floor was reached by the elevator, and the fire chief of that city recommended the compulsory adoption of the device by all buildings provided with elevators. The hose is inserted in the attachment about two sections behind the discharge nozzle, these sections being coiled on the elevator floor.

The Broken Heart.

"The party will recover from this check," said Mayor Craig of Covington, apropos of a temporary setback. "They say the party will be broken. I'd reply that it will be about as much broken as young Lansing's heart.

"A chorus girl who had refused young Lansing said to a friend: 'I have broken his heart, I fear.'

"'You have. You certainly have,' the friend replied. 'You've broken it right in half.'

"'In half? What do you mean?'

"'I mean that he takes two girls out to supper every night now.'"

Facts And Fiction

Experiences of Monessen Citizens Are Easily Proven to be Facts

The most superficial investigation will prove that the following statement from a resident of Monessen is true. Read it and compare evidence from Monessen people with testimony of strangers living so far away you cannot investigate the facts of the case. Many more citizens of Monessen will endorse Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor, 452 McKee avenue, Monessen, Pa., says: "I think that the change of drinking water when I moved here was the cause of my kidney trouble. The kidney secretions became irregular in passage and caused me annoyance. I was subject to dizzy spells, could not sleep well and was very nervous. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised, I got a box from the Hirsch Drug Co. and commenced their use. They have greatly helped me and have lived up to all the claims made for them."

AN ORDINANCE

An Ordinance to provide for the licensing of transient retail merchants, fixing the license thereof and providing a penalty for the violation thereof.

Be it ordained and enacted by the Council of the Borough of Monessen, and it is hereby enacted and ordained by the authority of the same.

Section 1st. That it shall be unlawful for every person, whether principal or agent, entering into, beginning or desiring to begin, a transient, retail business in the Borough of Monessen for the sale of any goods, wares or merchandise whatsoever, whether the same shall be represented or held forth to be bankrupt, assignees, or about to quit business, or of goods damaged by fire, water or otherwise, unless such person or persons shall first have procured or taken out a license for the conduct of such business from the proper authorities of the Borough.

Section 2. The license fee to be paid by the person or persons engaged or desiring to engage in such business shall not be less than twenty-five, ($25.00), dollars nor more than two hundred ($200.00) dollars per month, or fractional part thereof, to be paid to the treasurer of the Borough. Such license to be renewed monthly during the continuance of said sale, and upon the failure of said person or persons to secure such license, he, she or they shall be fined, upon conviction, in a sum not less than One Hundred Dollars nor more than Two Hundred Dollars, to be collected as other fines are collected, and in default of payment of said fine, to be imprisoned in the County Jail for a period not exceeding thirty days.

Section 3. All ordinances, or parts of ordinances, inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

Ordained and enacted in Council this first day of March, 1912.

Geo. H. Stevens,

Attest:
J. E. Pittman
Clerk.

Approved this 1st day of March, 1912.

TESTIMONY OF FIVE WOMEN

Proves That Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Is Reliable.

Reedville, Ore.—"I can truly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all women who are passing through the Change of Life, as it made me a well woman after suffering three years." —Mrs. MARY BOGART, Reedville, Oregon.

New Orleans, La. — "When passing through the Change of Life I was troubled with hot flashes, weak and dizzy spells and backache. I was not fit for anything until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which proved worth its weight in gold to me."—Mrs. GASTON BLONDEAU, 1541 Polymnia St., New Orleans.

Mishawaka, Ind.—"Women passing through the Change of Life can take nothing better than Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am recommending it to all my friends because of what it has done for me."—Mrs. CHAS. BAUER, 523 E. Marion St., Mishawaka, Ind.

RESTORE GRAY HAIR TO NATURAL COLOR

By Common Garden Sage a Simple Remedy for Dandruff, Falling, Faded, Gray Hair.

The old idea of using Sage for darkening the hair is again coming in vogue. Our grandmothers had dark, glossy hair at seventy-five, while our mothers are gray before they are fifty. Our grandmothers kept their hair soft and glossy with a "Sage Tea," which also restored the natural color.

One objection to using such a preparation was the trouble of making it. This objection has been overcome by the Wyeth Chemical Company of New York, who has placed on the market a superior preparation of Sage, combined with Sulphur and other valuable remedies for dandruff, itching scalp, and thin, weak, falling hair.

The beauty of the hair depends more on its rich, even shading than anything else. Don't have dry, harsh faded hair, when a simple, harmless remedy will bring back the color in a few days; and don't be tormented with dandruff, itching scalp and loose, falling hairs. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy will quickly correct these troubles, and give color, strength and beauty to your hair.

Get a fifty cent bottle from your druggist today, and prove this to your own satisfaction. All druggists sell it, under guarantee that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented.

PLATINUM IS FOUND

Rare Metal in Small Quantities Usually Is Associated With Gold in Gravel Beds.

Platinum is found associated with gold, principally in gravel beds. The ordinary source is accumulations of gravel which have been eroded from extensive area and gradually concentrated in one locality by the continued action of water. It is a rare metal and the accumulation must be from a great extent of country if a paying deposit is to be developed.

Platinum is of a silver gray color which is rarely tarnished. Its development is similar to gold, except that where gold is usually associated with quartz and light colored rocks platinum will be found more commonly with dark colored rocks, and especially those of a greenish shading.

It is found only in small quantities, except at two or three localities. Western Colombia and eastern Russia have gravel beds which afford the principal supply of this metal. Elsewhere it is found over considerable areas, but not sufficiently concentrated to be of importance. It may be looked for among the formations adjacent to regions of old volcanic activity.

The distribution is principally in altered rocks, and segregation seems to have been the principal cause contributing to its collection in ore bodies. The deposits found up to the present time have been of irregular mineralization and not of great extent, consequently all platinum deposits must be considered with caution.

Of the rare metals associated with platinum, iridium, osmium, paladium and others, little need be said because of their rarity. If found they will be associated with platinum and will be known by the greater hardness, brighter surface and greater specific gravity.—Moody's Magazine.

THREAD DOES SLEUTH WORK

Milwaukee Merchant Devises a Clever Scheme to Get Rid of a Troublesome Shoplifter.

The manager of a local department store took an efficacious method of ridding himself of a troublesome petty shoplifter recently. The woman has been coming into the store and picking up a small remnant, spool of thread, thimble or other article that happened to be lying about, having little intrinsic value, but being nevertheless a source of annoyance to both the clerk and the management. Because of the position of the woman, it was undesirable to institute an action.

A few days ago the manager took a spool of silk from the case, fastened the loose end of the thread with a tack, and allowing a bit of slack, left it upon the counter. It was not long before his party arrived, and deftly dropping the spool into her shopping bag, started out. The manager detached the loose end and followed her up the street, a few yards in the rear. He trailed her into another downtown store, and, as she was standing beside a counter in the midst of a crowded array of bargain seekers, approached her, calmly winding his thread and politely said:

"Madame, I'll trouble you for that spool of thread."

What followed can be more easily imagined than described. He got the thread and has not been troubled with losses since, nor have the other stores, so far as may be learned.—Milwaukee Free Press.

Bearded "Ladies."

M. Brandt, a Danish professor, comes to the conclusion that bearded ladies in time to come will be the order of the day. Ladies with beards who are now to be seen may be regarded as the precursors of the future race, and the professor comes to the conclusion that the more masculine woman becomes in her habits so much the more will she be in appearance. He does not think that bearded ladies will become general until at least two centuries have elapsed. His investigations show that the number of women with traces of mustaches, although clearly visible, increases but slowly. The Paris contemporary from which we take the foregoing suggests that the professor has missed the great point which he might have made and that is that as the number of men who shave increases daily it would follow that women would endeavor to grow beards from sheer perversity.

"Aeropetomanie."

Some months ago a learned professor at the Sorbonne wrote to the Parisian papers proposing that the word "petomane" be used as a term to designate the aviator, the word petomane being based, he explained, on the Greek root "pet," to fly. Another learned person says that the word harks back to the earliest days of aerostation, and quotes from Der Deutsche Merkur (the German Mercury), published by Wieland at Weimar, in October, 1783, which speaks of "Aeropetomanie," or the latest progress in flying.

The Ruling Passion.

"How is Mrs. Dumley? I understand the doctor gave her up?"

"Yes, he did. But she's better. The other day she thought she was sinking and sent in a hurry for her women neighbors."

"Well."

"In ten minutes they were all playing bridge."

Among the Theatres

THE LUNA

Tomorrow at the Luna, one of the greatest pictures ever produced will be shown on the new "mirroroid" screen and to secure this extra feature attraction the management has gone to much expense. Tomorrow's feature is "A String of Pearls" which are valued at $250,000.00. Although these seemingly real pearls represent an enormous outlay of money, the real pearls are even more priceless than money can buy. $250,000,000.00 cannot buy the real pearls for they come only from the true heart. A young man near death's door must be sent to the country or else his death is but a matter of time. He is too poor to pay his expenses but his friends gather together their Xmas savings and cheerfully advance them that he may be able to regain his health. The remainder of the story will be worked out at the Luna tomorrow. Also "Trapped By Wireless" thrilling and gripping drama of a near escape. Special music by our orchestra. 1t

OLYMPIC

The program for today at the Olympic theatre embraces several very interesting and entertaining pictures among which are, "Bedelia and The Suffragette." Bedelia gets a job in a suffragette family in which the men do the house work and the complications—well you just want to see them. A beautiful scenic picture of the earliest settled colony in the U. S., St. Augustine, Fla., and "Wrongly Accused" is a thrilling story of the misplaced blame in which a supposedly stolen necklace is found on the neck of a baby doll, instead of on the person of an old and faithful friend as was at first supposed. Other good pictures will be shown and don't miss the orchestra.

For tomorrow an extra special picture has been secured, announcement of which will be seen in tomorrow's paper. Watch for it. For Friday and Saturday high class vaudeville will be shown as usual. 1t

THE BIJOU

This is the big feature day at the Bijou theatre and three extra fine pictures are being offered at this popular playhouse. "Love and Tears" is a typical Lubin drama and one that will stir anyone's soul to higher motives "A Tenderfoot's Troubles," a comic tale of a boy's experiences among the cowboys and "A Visit to Maderia" an interesting and instructive travelogue by the Kalem Co. Music all day by our special orchestra. Come and hear the latest popular airs.

THE STAR

The bill at the Star this week is par excellence and should be the means of this popular playhouse doing a record breaking business for the remaining two days of the show. An extra good bill including Barrett and Scallen, comedy acrobats that are "right there" with the goods in this line of work, Prudence Grue, a winsome little miss who sings in a pleasing manner and portrays some clever drawings in crayon, and Travers, Ray and Co., in the big newspaper comedy playlet entitled "The Last Issue," an act that not only drew but merited the unstinted approval of last evening's large audiences. The acting and stage setting in this sketch was all that could be desired. Fine motion pictures by the Starograph closed the bill.

News Notes of Society

A very pleasant social affair was held last night at the Methodist church for the benefit of those who had professed religion at the recent revival services. There was a large number present and all spent a most happy evening. Each convert was given a white ribbon bow which was worn during the entire evening. An appropriate program had been arranged and was carried out, consisting of vocal and instrumental selections, readings and short talks, by the new converts and older members of the church, and church work in various departments explained and discussed. A light lunch was served, and all-in-all, it proved a most profitable and entertaining gathering. Such free, whole souled social gatherings are good for all, and do much to encourage the beginner in church work.

Mrs. Clarence Woodward entertained the members of the Band of Hope class of the Presbyterian church at her home on Donner avenue on Saturday afternoon. A very enjoyable afternoon was passed at the close of which the hostess served a delicious lunch to her little guests.

THE DOCTOR'S QUESTION

Much Sickness Due to Bowel Disorders

A doctor's first question when consulted by a patient is, "Are your bowels regular?" He knows that 98 per cent of illness is attended with inactive bowels and torpid liver, and that this condition must be removed gently and thoroughly before health can be restored.

Rexall Orderlies are a positive, pleasant, and safe remedy for constipation and bowel disorders in general. We are so certain of their great curative value that we promise to return the purchaser's money in every case when they fail to produce entire satisfaction.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy. they act quietly, and aid in producing a soothing, strenghening, healing influence on the entire intestinal tract They do not purge, gripe, cause nausea, flatulence, excessive looseness, diarrhoea, or other annoying effects. They are especially good for children, weak persons, or old folks. Three sizes, 10c., 25c., and 50c. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store. Craig's Drug Store.

PORTER TOLD INTERESTING LIFE STORY

Again was the Presbyterian church crowded by Monessen people to hear Evangelist Porter recite his experience as a baseball player and as a christian, both on and off the diamond.

In a plain, simple, convincing manner he told just how it came to him that he should live a better life; how he turned, and the many obstacles which came up along his way as a professional ball player, and how he overcame them. He said that he for two years was associated with a president of a baseball club; an elder in a church, and considered beyond and above reproach. Yet, in that two years' time that man never spoke to him about his spiritual life.

"After my conversion, my greatest temptations came from supposedly christian business men, who after the game, thinking to show me a good time, invited me to the old haunts of sin for liquid refreshments."

After telling of the many temptations, he, on the other hand showed the numerous encouragements received from ministers who invited him to speak in their churches.

The services were unique insofar as the battles of a christian's life were portrayed most vividly. The enemies to be met and overcome, and finally the crowning conflict for victory.

There were many young folks present whose confidence and trust has been gained by Mr. Porter during his stay in Monessen, who were most deeply interested and impressed by his earnest, personal, practical talk on his own battle for good and the mastery. Much was the resultant good at this meeting as many declared their conviction and intent to follow the pathway which Mr. Porter is following.

There will be meetings each evening this week and the series will be brought to a close next Sabbath evening Wednesday cottage prayer meetings will be at Mrs E B. Shupe's 443 Reed avenue, Mrs Geo. Graul's Schoonmaker avenue and Mrs. C. B McVay's, 11 Knox. Let everybody who can, attend, and all be on hand at the meeting tonight.

Miss Alice Ray, with Travers-Ray Co., at Star tonight and tomorrow.

Our Personal Guarantee to all Skin Sufferers

We have been in business in this town for some time, and we are looking to build up trade by always advising our patrons right.

So when we tell you that we have found the eczema remedy and that we stand back of it with the manufacturer's iron clad gaurantee, backed by ourselves you can depend upon it that we give our advice not in order to sell few bottles of medicine to skin sufferers, but because we know how it will help our business if we help our patrons.

We keep in stock and sell, all the well known skin remedies. But we will say this: If you are suffering from any kind of skin trouble, eczema, psoriasis, rash or tetter, we want you to try a full size bottle of D D. D. Prescription. And, if it does not do the work, this bottle will not cost you anything. You alone to judge.

Again and again we have seen how a few drops of this simple wash applied to the skin, takes away the itch, instantly. And the cures all seem to be permanent.

D. D. D. Prescription made by the D. D. D. Laboratories of Chicago, is composed of thymol, glycerine, oil of wintergreen and other healing, soothing, cooling ingredients. And if you are just crazy with itch you will feel soothed and cooled, the itch absolutely washed away the moment you applied this D. D. D.

We have made fast friends of more than one family by recommending this remedy to a skin sufferer here and there and we want you to try now on our positive nopay guarantee. Crags' Drug Drug store.
